

Bow Buyers Guide

The following was compiled on 26/1/2018 – prices may vary.

Lakeside bowmen does NOT ENDORSE or RECOMMEND any of the products or suppliers listed.

The information is supplied to inform first bow buyers of what is available at entry level and expectations around pricing. REMEMBER – you get what you pay for !

For your first bow make sure poundage is between 20-25# - you can upgrade the limbs to a higher poundage after approximately 6 months.

One Dozen Carbon Arrows $105-$126 (Various)

Fletches > For recurve use feathers (vanes = plastic, will bounce off the riser and not fly straight)

Beman Flash Arrow half dozen (Fletched, feathers)	6 = $70 (Abbey Archery) 12=$126 (Abbey Archery)
Carbon Express Predator II 3050 – rated 30-50lbs 2040 – rated 20-40lbs 800- rated up to 30lbs 700 – rated up to 30lbs	6=$65 (Abbey Archery) 12=$118 (Abbey Archery) 12 = $125 (Redback Archery)
Easton Jazz (Aluminium) – only up to 25#	12 = $120 (Abbey Archery) 12 = $125 (Redback Archery)
Easton Inspire	12= $105 (Abbey Archery)

Spine indication – depends on

- draw LENGTH (how far you pull the bow back)
- what poundage the bow is 20-25# = 1000

25-30# = 900

30-35# = 750

35-40# = 600

To weak ==arrows go right, could snap, go through your hand!

Too stiff arrows fly off to the left
